1. Vision and Values

Our vision is to equip students for a future in which they have the academic qualifications, character skills and high self-esteem to make decisions that lead to long, happy and content lives.

We will make best endeavours to make the necessary adaptations and adjustments, alongside our high quality universal provision, to ensure that pupils with SEND have the same access to this vision as their peers. In everything we do, we endeavour to ensure that our pupils with SEND experience our school values of kindness, equality, well-being, open minds and collaboration in the same way as their peers.

We will achieve this by making reasonable adjustments to teaching, the curriculum and the school environment to make sure that pupils with SEND are included in all aspects of school life.

2. Aims

Our SEND policy and information report aim to:

- Set out how our school will support and make provision for pupils with special educational needs and Disability (SEND)
- Explain the roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for pupils with SEND

This policy has been developed by the SENDCO in consultation with the wider school leadership team, the Headteacher and the Trustees.

3. Legislation and Guidance

This policy and information report is based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability \(SEND\) Code of Practice and the following legislation:

- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for pupils with SEN and disabilities.
- The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, SEND coordinators (SENDCOs) and the SEND information report.
- The Equality Act 2010, <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/equality-act-2010-guidance>, which sets out the school's duties to make reasonable adjustments for pupils with disabilities. This includes section 149, the Public Sector Equality Duty.
- The Governance Handbook, which sets out trustees' responsibilities for pupils with SEND.
- The School Admissions Code, which sets out the school's obligation to admit all pupils whose EHC plan names the school, and its duty not to disadvantage unfairly children with a disability or with SEN.

This policy also complies with our funding agreement and articles of association.

4. Definitions

A pupil has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.

TGGS Special Educational Needs and Disability Policy

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of other students of the same age, and/or
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools.

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

Reasonable adjustments are any steps which it is reasonable to take to avoid substantial disadvantage due to a pupil's disability. When considering whether an adjustment is reasonable, the following factors may be considered:

- The resources of the school and the availability of financial or other assistance
- The financial and other costs of making the adjustment
- The extent to which taking any particular step would be effective in overcoming the substantial disadvantage suffered by a disabled pupil
- The practicability of the adjustment
- The effect of the disability on the individual
- Health and safety requirements
- The need to maintain academic, musical, sporting and other standards
- The interests of other pupils and prospective pupils

SEND can be in any one of the following four areas:

Cognition and Learning (C&L)

Communication and Interaction (C&I)

Social, Emotional and Mental Health (SEMH)

Sensory and Physical (SyPh)

Within school, and for reporting purposes, a student with SEND requiring special educational provision will be referred to as being at SEND stage 'K' and these students will be recorded on the school's SEND register.

6. SEND Information

See TGGS SEND Information Report for more detail on sections 5.1-5.18 (available on the school website)

The kinds of SEND that are provided for: Our school currently provides additional and/or different provision for a range of needs, including:

- Communication and Interaction, for example, Autistic Spectrum Conditions, speech and language difficulties,
- Cognition and Learning, for example, Dyslexia, Dyspraxia, Dyscalculia,
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health needs, for example, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder. Other examples include mental health difficulties such as anxiety or depression or they could be self-harming, substance misuse, eating disorders or physical symptoms that are medically unexplained.
- Sensory and/or physical needs, for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments, processing difficulties.

In addition, The School have written an 'Accessibility Plan' which sets out to:

- Increase access to the curriculum for pupils with a disability,
- Improve and maintain access to the physical environment,
- Improve the delivery of information to pupils with a disability.

6.2 Identifying Pupils with SEND and Assessing their Needs

The School follows the 'Graduated Approach' model and identifying pupils is part of the 'Assess, Plan, Do, Review' cycle.

Further investigation to assess whether a child may have SEND requiring special educational provision will be undertaken where teacher assessment, pastoral or parental concerns indicate that progress and or development is:

- significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline,
- failing to match or better the child's previous rate of progress or development
- failing to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers,
- Widening the attainment gap.

Progress refers to academic attainment and development to behavioural, emotional and social development. A student not achieving the expected academic progress is not automatically an indicator of SEND, nor is achieving expected academic progress automatically an indicator that there is no SEND.

To assess whether the above concerns are indicators of a SEND requiring special educational provision, we may take any of the following into account as appropriate:

- Speed of handwriting and spelling assessment
- Reading age assessment
- Computerised assessment of working memory and processing speed (KS3)
- Educational Psychologist report
- External assessment of working memory and processing speed (KS4 & 5)
- Views and assessments of teaching and support staff
- Reports from NHS and other external agencies

When deciding whether special educational provision is required, we will start with the desired

TGGGS Special Educational Needs and Disability Policy

outcomes, including the expected progress, attainment and development. We will seek professional advice/referrals from teachers and will consider the views and wishes of the pupil and their parents. We will use this to determine whether the pupil's needs can be met through universal provision or whether something different and/or additional is needed.

Where a graduated response has been followed and the pupil's progress and or development is still:

- significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline,
- failing to match or better the child's previous rate of progress or development
- failing to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers,
- Widening the attainment gap.

The school will consider whether to request a statutory assessment of needs by the Local Authority in order to secure an Education Health and Care Plan (EHCP).

6.3 Consulting and Involving Pupils and Parents

The School follows the 'Graduated Approach' model and consulting and involving pupils and parents is part of the 'Assess, Plan, Do, Review' cycle. Parents will be consulted at the earliest stage of identifying whether or not a pupil has SEND and they are invited to contribute at every stage of the graduated response cycle.

When we identify that a pupil has SEND requiring special educational provision (see section 5.2), parents will be notified and sent a draft version of a support plan for their child, to which they will be invited to contribute.

These communications will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strengths and difficulties
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child,
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are.

6.4 Assessing and Reviewing Pupils' Progress towards Outcomes

The School follows the 'Graduated Approach' model and assessing and reviewing pupils' progress towards outcomes is part of the 'Assess, Plan, Do Review' cycle.

The class or subject teacher will work with the SENDCO to carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs through cross referencing the following information:

- The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil, through formative and summative assessment throughout the academic year,
- Their previous progress, current attainment, behaviour and well-being,
- Other teachers' assessments, where relevant,
- Observations by support and pastoral staff, where relevant,
- The individual's progress and development in comparison to their peers and national data,
- The views and experience of parents,
- The pupil's own views,
- Advice from external support services, if relevant

All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. This information will be shared with all staff who work with the pupil.

We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions and the impact upon the pupil's progress.

6.5 Supporting Pupils Moving Between Phases and Preparing for Adulthood

We will share information with the school, college, or other setting the pupil is moving to. We will agree with parents and pupils which information will be shared as part of this.

Those with an EHC plan have an enhanced annual review during transition stages whereby relevant professionals are invited to attend and contribute.

An enhanced transition programme is available to:

- all pupils moving from year 6 into year 7 who have been identified as having SEND requiring special educational provision by their primary school.
- all pupils moving from year 11 into 12 who have been identified as having SEND requiring special educational provision by their secondary school.

All SEND students have full access to the school's careers programme and reasonable adjustments are made where appropriate to ensure that all students can access this.

6.6 Our Approach to Teaching Pupils with SEND

The School follows the 'Graduated Approach' model and uses the 'Assess, Plan, Do, Review' cycle.

Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class. High quality, adaptive teaching is our first step in responding to pupils who have SEND. Teachers will use evidence-based research to inform best teaching practice and are provided with regular CPD to ensure that they have the skills and knowledge to meet the needs of pupils with SEND.

Where a pupil requires teaching strategies which are different from and additional to this high-quality universal provision, teachers will use the pupil's support plan to inform the adjustments they will make. Where appropriate, additional support from the SEND, pastoral or support team department may be allocated.

6.7 Adaptations to the Curriculum and Learning Environment

Through high quality, adaptive teaching and additional support as outlined in section 5.6 we are able to ensure that pupils with SEND are able to access a broad and balanced curriculum in line with their peers. Pupils with SEND do not follow a reduced curriculum, apart from in exceptional circumstances at the discretion of the Headteacher

At the planning stage of all trips and extra-curricular activities, accessibility for pupils with SEND is considered and reasonable adjustments are made to ensure that pupils with SEND are able to access these activities as fully as possible.

- The School's 'Accessibility Plan' which can be accessed on the website sets out to:

6.12 Enabling Pupils with SEND to engage in activities available to those in the school who do not have SEND

6.13 Support for Improving Emotional and Social Development

The School follows the 'Graduated Approach' model and support for improving emotional and social development is part of the 'Assess, Plan, Do Review' cycle.

Support for social, emotional development requires significant collaboration between teams within the school. See section 5.8 for details of staff who may support with the emotional and social development of students with SEND.

In addition, the school provides a comprehensive range of extra-curricular activities and groups that support students socially and emotionally. All students are encouraged to participate in enrichment activities and contribute to student voice. Further details can be found on the school website and in the SEND Information Report.

6.15 Concerns about SEND Provision

Where parents have concerns about our school's SEND provision, they should first raise their concerns informally with the SENDCO. We will try to resolve the complaint informally in the first instance. If this does not resolve their concerns, parents are welcome to submit their complaint formally. If the parent or carer is not satisfied with the school's response, they can escalate the complaint. In some circumstances, this right also applies to the pupil themselves.

The parents of pupils with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first-tier SEND tribunal if they believe that our school has discriminated against their children. They can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:

- Exclusions,
- Provision of education and associated services,
- Making reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services.
